

EVGA Products Set New 3DMark 2006 World Record!

Brea, California and Munich, Germany - Monday, November 20, 2006 □ Vince "k|ngp|n" Lucido crushes 3DMark 2006 World Record using a pair of EVGA e-GeForce 8800 GTX Graphics cards in SLI mode in conjunction with EVGA's nForce 680i SLI Motherboard! The world record has now been set at 24,011 points.

This is just another example of EVGA's dedication to the gaming community in bringing the highest level of performance and quality to the market first.

In addition to this world record, EVGA's nForce 680i SLI motherboard holds the top 18 out of 20 3DMark2006 scores. (See Attached Document) This is in both SLI and single card configurations with the 8800 GTX.

EVGA products are a must-have for the professional, dedicated gamer who wants to stay on top of their game or, in this case, likes to break world records.
